

THE Cornwell Center

by John Bambach
jbambach@mpbconline.org

A breed apart

It's not as clear as you might think. When you try to find what it is that makes a volunteer – what personality trait, background, other characteristic – the only consensus seems to be that it's too varied to be easily categorized. I once heard someone refer to this place as Myers-Briggs Baptist Church, so I looked to that model for some insight. I found an article on this very thing at www.VolunteerToday.com from June 2006. It seems that 15 of the 16 types fall into volunteerism in some form or other (hey, no ISFJ's?).

From what I can tell, when all is said, there is one thing that seems to set volunteers apart from others. Volunteers act on their inclinations to help by offering themselves and their time. Whatever it is, whatever you are, you do things we couldn't do without. You donate your varied skills and talents to our Board, our Sports activities, the Art Studio, and the Learning Center. Which brings us to...

A note of thanks

...to all our volunteers for what you do to make the Cornwell Center a better place! You are appreciated more than you know. I thank you for all you have done and continue to do for the Cornwell Center.

Best,
David J. Pohorence
Cornwell Center Director
dpohorence@mpbconline.org

radKIDS

In March we mentioned this upcoming program for kids in Safety Education. Well, Lyn Addy is now offering it

8 - 12 year olds

July 9-13th, 10 am – 12 pm

5-7 year olds

July 16 - 20th, 9 am - 11 am

$25 members / $35 non-members.

Info at www.radkids.org

New Artist

We'd like to welcome Charlotte Myers as our newest pottery instructor. She began teaching evening classes in May.

Charlotte was recently Studio Artist at Clayworks, Inc. At another location, she and her husband, Jay, collaborated in the creation of their nearly 2 year-old daughter, Aubrey Wynn.

Camping at Cornwell

...isn't just for Tiny Tots in the Summer. We have 'em for juniors and teens as well (ages 7-17) in Art, Golf, Cheerleading, Martial Arts, Baseball, Soccer, Quarterbacking. Applications and info are online and at our front desk. Contact Lisa Caudle for more info.

Coming this Fall

We're now offering care for young children, 2-4 yrs. You can bring your child here beginning at 7:30 am and we'll deliver your child to their TTWS class at 9 am. Registration begins July 16th and programs are for 5, 3, or 2 day weeks.

Hours, June 1 – August 26

Monday-Thursday 5:30 am - 8 pm

Friday 5:30 am - 5 pm

Saturday 7:30 am - 3 pm

The Learning Center

I've heard it said that expectations are premeditated disappointment. It must work differently here. For example:

When we started the AUDIO S.I.G. we anticipated audiophiles, techies, and some youth. Well, we've been nicely surprised by the diversity.

Several grandparents have found interest in recording for family members. Elise Williams joined us in May, reading a chapter from A Pirate's Plot for her grandchildren. No disappointment.

Ed Williams' curiosity was driven by what he tells us will be the Observer's move into Pod-casting this year! Major print media getting into audio recording? Surprise!

Just got an email from Gretchen Allen, new to our PHOTO S.I.G., with a wonderful photo site. Different.

www.px3.fr/winners/2007/jury
Our June meeting will feature travel photos presented by our participants.

- PHOTO Special Interest Group

First Wednesdays, 7-9 pm

- AUDIO Special Interest Group

Second Wednesdays, 7-9 pm

It's in June that certified eBay instructor Mary Stephenson will teach us how to sell on eBay. I'll be joining her with photo tips for showing your items well.

- Camp eBay

June 26-29, 1-3:30 pm

Parting Shot

The scene behind my house this past month was comforting. It was a reminder of the rebirth that comes with spring, as well as the start of new life. Comforting also is the sight of a fellow organism whose mouth tends to run larger than its brain... and has really bad hair in the morning.

